

Food Supplements Law

Vitamins and Dietary Supplements

The Experts in Food Supplements Law

➤ Act now:

- Are the compositions of your food supplements in line with current EU regulations?
- Are your food supplements correctly labelled and packaged?
- Should your products be classed as medicinal products rather than food supplements?
- Have you cleared the advertising of your food supplements?
- Can you afford not to act NOW?

➤ We have a proven track record:

Our expert team of food lawyers has successfully been advising companies like yours that manufacture, process, distribute, sell or import food or dietary supplements in the EU. Our elite team comprises lawyers who are trained scientists and/or sound scientific backgrounds, with the expertise to advise you on nutritional and health claims, whether your products are borderline food or medicinal products, on the presentation and advertising as well as the composition and labelling of your nutritional supplements. The understanding of food supplements laws and regulations should naturally be of utmost importance to your company in order to remain legally compliant. We add outstanding value to your business by providing guaranteed legal services to enable your company to continue to achieve success. We believe that we are the best in our field in the United Kingdom.

Our fees:

We charge fixed costs for most legal services we would provide to your company.

Contact us:

Please telephone us on 0207 488 9947

Email: enquiries@rtcooperssolicitors.com.

You may obtain more information on our food law practice at:

http://www.rtcoopers.com/practice\_foodsupplements.php

Testimonials:

'We are really grateful to the RT Coopers work. They advised us on several subjects that are really important to our business. They also drafted a few contracts for our company. We highly recommend their professional services to any company looking for a high standard legal advice/solution with integrity and honesty.'

David Raimundo, Director of Medis Health Ltd