

Settlement Agreements

How to get the best independent legal advice easily and effortlessly

Expert Advice on your Settlement Agreement

➤ Act now:

- Are you being made Redundant? Have you been made Redundant?
- Have you entered into Consultation with your Employer?
- Have you been told the Reason for your Redundancy?
- Have you agreed the Payment Terms of your Redundancy?
- Do you have any unresolved Grievance or Disciplinary Action with your Employer?

➤ We have a proven track record:

RT Coopers Solicitors offer quality advice to employees who are being made redundant. Our employment lawyers are experts in employment law and we have a proven track record of successfully advising employees on the terms of their settlement agreements (formerly known as compromise agreements). We will use our wealth of experience to guide you through the redundancy process and we guarantee that you will find it extremely easy to use our services. Our focus is always on your specific needs and we guarantee you the best possible advice. We have created a premium blog and video containing a wealth of information on settlement agreements/compromise agreements. Essentially, the blog contains free advice and video is a source of instant answers to questions on redundancy and settlement agreements.

Our fees:

Your employer's contribution towards your legal costs would cover our fees, unless we need to undertake substantial negotiations on your behalf.

Contact us:

Please telephone us on 0207 488 9947

Email: enquiries@rtcooperssolicitors.com.

You may obtain more information on settlement agreements at:
www.employmentlawyersinlondon.com

© RT Coopers, 2014

Testimonials:

'Thank you for representing me with my Compromise Agreement. I was very pleased with the service I received. I could have gone through my union solicitor, but I didn't find them very forthcoming, which is why I searched the internet. Immediately upon speaking to RT Coopers, I was impressed with the speed of information via the phone and email.' B.Y

'Thank you for your advice on the compromise agreement. I am very impressed by your patience and professionalism, which made it very easy. Since my first call to the Firm, I could already sense a genuine interest in your clients. I have not been disappointed. I am delighted to have contacted your offices, and am glad I made the right choice.' F.M